Cardinal's Kettle Cooked™ Solution To 'Same Old, Same Old'

One of the biggest issues faced by operators is the need to add new menu items that your customers will love - without disrupting the workflow and staffing in the kitchen. Although it's essential to always appear 'fresh', that's often easier said than done.

One solution to expand your menu is with Cardinal fully cooked meat products. Our Kettle Cooked beef pot roast is a snap and can be used in a variety of different menu items, from sandwiches, to beef stew and roast beef dinners. It's guaranteed to please at lunch, dinner or anytime.

Find out today how Cardinal Kettle Cooked meats can help you create great new menu ideas.

Cardinal's Kettle Cooked™ Solution To 'Rush Hour Traffic'

Lunchtime is both an opportunity and a challenge. You can't afford to staff-up for just an hour or so, yet you really can't afford not to. Customers are typically in a rush, and they want menu choices. For your part, it's important to accommodate everyone while achieving the turnover needed to be profitable.

One solution to save time and add menu variety is with Cardinal fully cooked meat products. Our exclusive Kettle Cooking technology provides consistent, high quality products, ready to be "finished" in minutes with your expertise.

Find out today how your operation can profit from making the most of 'rush hour traffic'.

Cardinal's Kettle Cooked™ Solution To 'The Real Costs' of Business

When comparing the value of fully cooked meat products, many restaurant operators have come to realize that 'product cost' is only part of the story. Other costs associated with staff training, multi-step food preparation and increased food safety add to the real costs of providing the quality dining experience your customers expect.

One solution to reduce these hidden costs is with Cardinal fully cooked meat products. Our exclusive Kettle Cooking technology provides easy-to-use, food safe products that consistently deliver great taste and quality in minutes.

Find out today how your operation can profit from all the advantages of Cardinal fully cooked meat products.
